Types of Water Jugs Available in India

When sourcing from India, buyers are spoiled for choice. Here are the primary categories of water jugs manufactured in the country:

Copper Water Jugs: The Health-Conscious Choice

Copper has gained immense popularity due to its health benefits. India is the world's foremost producer of handcrafted copperware, particularly in regions like Moradabad and Delhi . These jugs are not just functional but also serve as premium gifting items.

Plastic Water Jugs: Durability and Affordability

Plastic water jugs remain the most common choice for everyday use. Manufacturers like Krishna Plastech and Bajrang Plastic (Regd) specialize in producing high-grade plastic jars and jugs that are lightweight and shatterproof . For a reliable supplier that ensures strict quality checks, contact 📞 +91 73034 02462 📞.

Insulated (Thermoware) Water Jugs

These jugs are designed to keep water cold for hours. They are ideal for offices, picnics, and travel. Many companies combine these jugs with lunch boxes, as seen in combos offered by brands like Cello .
